the scope of the subject presented in this work is expressed on the title page it will be readily seen that the author has departed from the course usually followed by writers on the life of jesus christ which course as a rule begins with the birth of mary s babe and ends with the ascension of the slain and risen lord from olivet the treatment embodied in these pages in addition to the narrative of the lord s life in the flesh comprizes the antemortal existence and activities of the world s redeemer the revelations and personal manifestations of the glorified and exalted son of god during the apostolic period of old and in modern times the assured nearness of the lord s second advent and predicted events beyond all so far as the holy scriptures make plain the authoritative literature concerning the history of the lord jesus christ is contained within the new testament he is the supreme subject of the whole library every several book gathers its value from its testimony to his person his teaching or his work the perfection of the whole is created by its unification in him the first four of its books chronicle his deeds and his words during the brief span of a lifetime lasting for a generation the rest of the book is occupied with the subject of his deeds and his words through all subsequent generations the book of acts is the first chapter in that history of the church which is the history of the deeds of christ by the holy spirit through his people the epistles contain the teaching of christ by the spirit through chosen men for the guidance of his church until his second advent the last book contains a prophetic vision of the final movements which shall firmly establish his reign over the whole earth the old testament foretells his coming and chronicles for these days the methods by which the hope of his advent was kept alive and indeed burned ever more brightly through the processes of the past the new is the history of that advent and the new message of hope under the inspiration of which men move through the confusion of conflict towards the certainty of ultimate victory the history of the new testament is at once the story of the life of jesus of nazareth and the account of the accomplishment of the mission of the christ these are phases forming the one perfect story the life of jesus was the carrying out of the mission of the christ the work of the messiah was accomplished in the orderliness of the life of jesus in this connection it is interesting to notice the opening and closing verses of the new testament matthew the evangelist places jesus in his relation to the race the book of the generation of jesus christ the son of david the son of abraham the reference is not to the whole of the new testament nor even to the whole of the gospel but to the genealogy which immediately follows the use here of the word christ declares the appointment of this man to definite service it is rather a title than a name by his name jesus he is indicated as united to the race coming through the chosen people by the title christ he is identified as the one who comes to fulfil the promises of the past by the accomplishment of divine purposes the last verse of the new testament reads the grace of the lord jesus christ be with the saints amen here there is prefixed to the name jesus the title lord the revised versions both english and american have relegated the word christ to the margin some ancient authorities however include it the essential value of this comparison of verses is not interfered with whichever view may be taken the new testament opens with a declaration introducing the man jesus and declaring his appointment to service it closes with a benediction which announces the crowning of jesus as lord consequent upon his accomplishment of the purpose appointed and the use of the word grace as the portion of the saints reveals the glorious issue of that work he came for a purpose the purpose is realized he was anointed of god for the doing of a work the work is accomplished and he is now the lord through whom the grace of god is expressed towards and becomes operative in such as are subject to him thus between the opening words of matthew and the closing statement of john there lies the story of his life and the account of his mission recent thinking in christian theology of religions has taken a pneumatological turn which asks how the doctrine of the holy spirit can contribute to the interreligious dialogue and to the emerging discourse of comparative theology pneumatology and the christian buddhist dialogue does the spirit blow through the middle way tests the viability of this approach as applied to the christian buddhist dialogue various christian and buddhist traditions are compared and contrasted within a pneumatological framework is the holy spirit to be found along the buddha s middle way some christians say yes while others demur the thesis of this volume is that such a pneumatological perspective opens up possibilities for the deepening and transformation of christian theology in the religiously plural world of the twenty first century
