art and science they may seem like opposites but throughout history there have been visionaries who have brought together these contrasting subjects the art of science explores the work of 40 such artists and artist scientists uncovering how these innovators have designed futuristic technology centuries ahead of its time investigated time and space through abstract art and created sculpture informed by nasa technology an expertly curated selection of artists from many different cultures and eras including huang quan leonardo da vinci johannes vermeer anna atkins olafur eliasson and anicka yi this book tells the story of the vital partnership between art and science with over 200 lavish illustrations is science the new art scientists weave incredible stories invent wild hypotheses and ask difficult questions about the meaning of life they have insights into the workings of our bodies and minds which challenge the myths we make about our identities and selves they create visual images models and scenarios that are gruesome baffling or beguiling they say and do things that are ethically and politically shocking contemporary scientists frequently talk about beauty and elegance artists hardly ever do while demonstrating how science is affecting the creation and interpretation of contemporary art this book proposes that artistic insights are as important on their own terms as those in science and that we can and should accommodate both forms of knowledge featuring the work of artists such as damien hirst christine borland bill viola and helen chadwick and art science collaborative ventures involving dorothy cross eduardo kac and stelarc it looks at the way new scientific explanations for the nature of human consciousness can influence our interpretation of art at the squeamish interventions being produced by artists relishing in new technologies and at art which takes on the dangers facing the fragile environment seeing the world from the other point of view can inform the practice of both sides this book will provide new insights to artists scientists and the wider public einstein once remarked after a certain high level of technical skill is achieved science and art tend to coalesce in aesthetics plasticity and form the greatest scientists are always artists as well in this volume some of the world s leading thinkers come together to expound on the interrelations between sciences and arts while one can segregate art and place it outside the scientific realm it is nevertheless inextricably linked to our essential cognitive emotional perceptual modalities and abilities and therefore lies alongside and in close contact with the method of science and philosophy what inspiration can scientists draw from art and how can scientific spirit foster our understanding and creation of aesthetic works how are art and science grounded in our cognition what role does perception play in science and art are criteria for beauty in art and science the same how does evolution shape our understanding of art how do science art and scientifico artistic frameworks shape society as a whole and help us address its pressing issues the epistemological and ontological aspects haunt artists philosophers and scientists alike the essays in this volume address these manifold questions while also elucidating the pragmatic role they play in our daily life
